Foreword from the Chair of the Audit, Standards and Risk Committee

I am pleased to present the report of the Audit, Standards and Risk Committee for the year 2021/22. The report covers the period from 1 April 2021 to 31 March 2022 and is the first annual report prepared by the Committee since its establishment.

I was elected Chair at my first meeting of, what was then, the Sheffield City Region (SCR) Audit and Risk Committee. It has been a baptism of fire for me as chairperson of, what I consider to be an interesting and informative committee, whose role is to be sighted on some of the most important issues in local government. During the year, proceedings have often been made more difficult by Covid forcing remote working, in addition, the organisation has undergone a significant change programme to integrate the Authority with the Passenger Transport Executive, part of this being a name change to 'South Yorkshire Mayoral Combined Authority' (SYMCA), which better describes the Authority's and Committee's ambit.

Besides the audit and risk functions of the committee there have been clear organisational issues which flow from its constitution. As we make the transition from SCR to SYMCA and from Mayor Jarvis to Mayor Coppard, it is appropriate that changes to the constitution are duly considered to ensure the committee be seen to be effective on behalf of the residents and communities of South Yorkshire to whom the Committee is accountable.

As Chair of the Committee, with its membership drawn from all authorities and all political parties', I have felt that proceedings have often been unwieldy. I am therefore keen to explore some of the options for improving the effectiveness of the committee as set out in section six of this report, including comprising the committee of local authority audit chairs and the potential provision of allowances.

I would like to extend my thanks to independent members Angela Marshall and Rhys Jarvis for their valuable input, particularly on the transition to a new single organisation, and to elected members and officers for their hard work on the issues addressed by the committee day to day.

Cllr Phil Lofts, Chair – SYMCA Audit, Standards and Risk Committee

1. Introduction

This report is produced in accordance with best practice guidance¹ and demonstrates the Authority's commitment to operating the highest standards of governance. It demonstrates how the Audit, Standards and Risk Committee has successfully fulfilled its terms of reference and overseen improvements to the Authority's governance arrangements, risk management arrangements and control environment.

The Committee plays a key role in ensuring that the organisation is fulfilling its legal obligations, complying with statutory requirements, is managing risk effectively and has robust control measures in place for all devolved powers and funding. The Committee advises on the adequacy and effectiveness of governance arrangements and scrutinises, reviews and endorses the Treasury Management Strategy, Financial Regulations and statutory accounts, before they are finalised and presented to the MCA Board for approval.

Minutes of the Committee's meetings are available on the Authority's website².

2. Membership

The Audit, Standards and Risk Committee comprises 12 members: ten elected members nominated by the four South Yorkshire Local Authority's, and ³two independent members appointed by the MCA. The quorum for meetings is two thirds.

As required by 'The Combined Authorities (Overview and Scrutiny Committees, Access to Information and Audit Committees) Order 2017'⁴ the membership of the Committee, so far as reasonably practical, reflects the balance of political parties of the constituent councils (as per the outcome of the 2021 local elections) The re-appointment in 2021 of a number of members who had served on the Committee in the previous year, provided a level of continuity.

During the year the membership comprised the following:

Gender balance

During the year the gender balance of the substantive membership of the committee (including independent members) was 66% male and 33% female.

Nomination of Chair and Vice-chair

Appointments are made annually at the first quorate meeting of the Committee after the Authority's AGM. Cllr Phil Lofts was elected Chair and, independent member, Rhys Jarvis, Vice-chair at the meeting held ⁵15th July 2021.

*At time of writing, delivery of the 2021/22 Audit Plan is still in progress.

External Audit

The Authority's external audit function is provided by Ernst and Young who attended three out of six meetings during the period.

Two recommendations were made as part of the 2020/21 external audit. These were in respect of the control environment and related to reviews of the fixed asset register and a review of disclosure notes. Both of these have been addressed as part of year end processes.

5. Self-Evaluation of Committee Effectiveness

The Chartered Institute of Public Finance and Accountancy (CIPFA) recommends that Audit Committees undertake an assessment of their own effectiveness annually. A survey to facilitate this took place in quarter four, closing on 22nd March. Based on the substantive membership of the Committee the survey received around a two thirds response rate.

The survey focussed on 3 key areas – skills and knowledge, relationships, and administrative and operational arrangements. The key findings are as follows:

Skills and Knowledge

Feedback indicated that Members were confident of their understanding of the role and responsibility of the Committee however, there was a range of responses about the level of understanding of the key areas of accountability as outlined in the terms of reference. The results indicated a desire for further training and awareness around such things as the control environment but indicated a level of confidence around the review and recommendation of the statement of accounts.

There was a mixed level of satisfaction on whether the Committee possessed knowledge of the core business of the organisation, the wider political landscape and other relevant strategic issues. In line with this, when asked about specific areas of development, the findings indicated that Members were keen to understand more about the control environment, strategies and plans and the wider context that the MCA operates in.

Members were also asked how new members could be better supported when joining the Committee. There was a clear indication that it would be beneficial for new members to undergo a comprehensive orientation or induction session about their role and about the MCA, along with an informal meeting with other members and a short reading list.

Relationships and Communication

Members were asked to rate the effectiveness of the relationship and communication with each other and between members and officers. A range of responses were given but there was an indication that relationships are effective. However, there were some concerns raised about the level of attendance at meetings and the lack of opportunity to build relationships with members from other local authorities.

The survey also sought opinion about the effectiveness of the relationship between the Committee and the MCA and Mayor. The results highlighted that there is a desire to have a more productive relationship however, the Committee recognised that whilst this would be beneficial, it would be important to maintain a level of independence.

Administrative and Operational Arrangements

The final section of the survey asked members about their satisfaction with the administrative and operational arrangements for the Committee.

Feedback indicated that, in terms of conciseness, relevance and quality, there was a good level of satisfaction with committee papers however, responses also indicated that document packs could sometimes be hard to navigate electronically and challenging to read, particularly where excel spreadsheets are used. It was also clear that verbal reports are less welcome and should be minimised.

There was a level of satisfaction with the number and range of non-member participants at meetings and that the workplan for the Committee met assurance requirements and supported the Committee in meeting its accountabilities.

When asked about the quality of debate and discussion at meetings there was a range of opinion. The contribution and expertise brought by the independent members was acknowledged and some suggestions were made about the structure of the agenda (dividing items for information and decision or discussion) to allow for greater focus on key issues. There were further concerns raised about attendance levels and the amount of time available for detailed discussion.

Outcome

The outcome of the survey was considered by the Committee at their meeting 24th March and the issues were discussed at length. Officers were asked to explore the following matters when developing an effectiveness improvement plan:

- Increasing the number of independent members to the Committee
- Consideration of remuneration for Committee members
- Automatically appointing the Chair of each local authority to the Committee
- The importance of a strong induction process
- Giving voting rights to independent members
- The value of having the work of the Committee recognised

The Committee agreed unanimously that the matter of attendance needed to be addressed.

6. Effectiveness Improvement Plan
